

EFPA Czech Republic Moves Fast Forward with First EFPA European Financial Advisor™ Examinations.

Press release: July 28, 2011

After signing an Affiliation Agreement with EFPA at the tail end of 2010, EFPA Czech Republic has already successfully completed the accreditation process for their educational programs at the Financial Advisor level and is set to complete the first education courses for students in September 2011.

On 26-27 September 2011, EFPA Czech Republic will hold its first examinations for candidates for the EFPA European Financial Advisor™ certificate. All candidates who have completed the education program are expected to move on to attend the examination and 50 candidates are expected to sit the first Czech Republic examinations.

EFPA Czech Republic is also proud to announce the publication of the EFPA Czech Republic website. The website is a comprehensive, Czech language website providing extensive information about EFPA Czech Republic, the Czech EFPA Educational program and certification opportunities, testing information and requirements, ethical and other EFPA professional standards, management and contact details and much more.

The new EFPA Czech Republic Website can be found at <http://www.efpa.cz/>
